MAF launches new programme in Guinea, West Africa

Following three years of extensive research, MAF has officially launched its latest operation in Guinea this month. An in-depth study has revealed that the presence of a consistent, sustainable domestic airline will greatly enhance development and support the work of aid agencies and Christian ministry in the country... Why Guinea?

Guinea is ranked 178 out of 189 countries on the UN's Human Development Index, which measures criteria such as life expectancy, levels of education and living standards. Widespread poverty is therefore high.

Life expectancy is 61 years of age and one in every 20 children will not survive their first birthday.

According to the World Health Organisation, there is barely one doctor for every 1,000 people. A third of the population does not have access to clean water (source: UN Sustainable Development Goals).

According to the World Food Programme, 55% of the population live below the bread line. Nearly 100,000 children under five suffer from severe malnutrition and nationally, a quarter of the population does not have enough food to eat.
